Why Australian Made Works for Retailers

The Real Retail Advantage

Made locally.
Sold with Confidence.

For retailers, Australian-made furniture is not only about origin. It is about flexibility, service ability and control. Instead of committing to large imported stock holdings, stores can offer a broader range of sizes, fabrics, finishes and base options through a made-to-order program.

With Mulberry, retailers can sell complete bedroom settings with confidence, supported by local production, practical lead times and a team that understands the needs of Australian furniture stores.

Premium Local Materials

Australian hardwood, upholstery materials and local workmanship help create bedroom furniture with stronger quality and value perception.

More Customisation

Beds, bases, chairs, benches and timber pieces can be tailored across fabric, size, finish and functional options to suit different customers.

Less Stock Pressure

Made-to-order production allows retailers to offer more options without carrying every size, colour or configuration on the floor.

Better Lead Time Control

Local manufacturing reduces reliance on overseas shipping schedules and gives retailers clearer communication throughout the order process.
